Women:
The SUPERHUMANS of Business

In the business world, women like you are the superhumans. Despite being unfairly marginalised, you bring balance, intuition and unique strength to our professions. USB is running a competition that will give all female applicants a chance to win a Full-time MBA Scholarship - including fully-paid MBA tuition, student accommodation and limited meals.

To enter and stand a chance to win, you firstly need to be a superhuman (i.e. female), as well as a successful applicant to USB’s Full-time MBA, thus meeting all our academic criteria. Thereafter, you will need to submit an essay of no more than 1000 words, detailing how you would use the knowledge gained from your MBA to create a better world. In your essay, you will also need to quantify why you deserve to be awarded a Full-time MBA scholarship valued at R660 000.

For more details on how to apply for the scholarship, contact Sibusiso Kheswa on 021 918 4157 or at mba@usb.ac.za
